MESSAGE

I am pleased to learn that the Inauguration of Ayurveda Hospital Building and Bhoomi Pooja Function for the SPS Specialty Hospital of Sri Paripoorna Sanathana Charitable Trust is being held at Bengaluru on 2nd December 2015.

Ayurveda is the ancient science of medicine. It traces back to our ancient India. The richness of Ayurveda is gaining significance. It is high time we focus on research and spread of Ayurveda across the world.

The initiatives taken by Sri Paripoorna Santhana Charitable Trust to promote traditional healthcare, yoga, Ayurveda, education and enhance moral and spiritual values deserve commendation.

I am sure the Ayurveda Hospital and the proposed SPS Specialty Hospital will cater to the healthcare needs of the poor and downtrodden people living in and around Nelamangala Taluk, Bengaluru Rural Dist.,

I convey my warm felicitations to CA.K.S. Ramaprasad, Smt.Sudha Ramaprasad, Trustees, Office Bearers and Members of Sri Paripoorna Sanathana Charitable Trust.

I wish Sri Paripoorna Santhana Charitable Trust all success in its service to the society.
